Academic Project

- Title : “A Case Study On Problems And Prospects of Power loom Industry With Special Reference to Banhatti City ”
- Period : February 2017 to May 2017.
- Description: In modern fast growing computerized world and increasing fashion world, the demand for the cotton sarees of the city is increasing. Though the demand is increasing tremendously, city entrepreneurs are unable to fulfill the requirements due to the many problems faced by them. Of all the problems like financial, labour, technical, infrastructural problems the major contribution is by finance sector. After all the problems the city imagines of certain prospects like establishment of power loom cluster, railway facility, introduction of new government subsidies etc. It is found that though the sector contributes maximum to the national income in the textile industry, it need to be developed and the Government intervention is the only solution to overcome the problems and enjoy the fruits of the sectorial development.
